PANEL 1

Wide panel. In the large room on the ground floor, several guards are finishing gagging and binding the queen's thugs. Some are on the floor with a cloth over their mouths and their wrists bound to their ankles behind them; others are tied all together back-to-back, with apples or oranges in their mouth. It's all going according to plan except that at the far right, as his face is buried in a thug's huge bosom, a thug bumps a stand with a crystal flower vase behind him.
